1. Privacy Policy

What We Collect

We collect personal information you voluntarily provide (like name, birth data, email, and payment info) and basic non-personal data (like IP address and site usage). Payment info is securely processed through trusted third-party providers such as Stripe and PayPal—we do not store your full payment data.

How We Use It

To deliver services, send updates, respond to inquiries, and improve your experience. We never sell your information.

Your Choices

You can unsubscribe, update info, or request deletion at any time.

Cookies

We may use cookies for analytics and functionality. You can disable them in your browser if you prefer.

Kids

These sites aren't intended for kids under 13. If that's you—go do something awesome offline. 🧡

2. Terms & Conditions

By Using Our Sites, You Agree To:

Not use the Sites for anything shady, illegal, or just plain rude.

Respect the content (it's ours, not yours to copy).

Understand that we offer support—not therapy, not medical advice, and definitely no magic cure-all.

Services & Payments

All services are to be paid upfront unless otherwise arranged. No refunds once sessions or workshops are delivered. No-shows = cancellations. We respect your time; we ask the same in return. Payments are securely processed through Stripe or PayPal.

Intellectual Property

Everything you see—text, images, graphics, tools—is owned by Angie Grandt, LLC unless noted. Please don't use it without permission. We believe in collaboration, not copyright drama.

Group Participation

What's shared in a group container stays there. Whether it's a workshop, a Zoom circle, or a private forum, we expect participants to honor confidentiality, privacy, and energetic safety. Don't share other people's stories, screenshots, or identities without their permission. Boundaries = respect.

3. Disclaimer

Not Medical, Mental Health, or Legal Advice

The services, guidance, and content you receive through these Sites are not substitutes for professional help. Coaching, Human Design, EFT, and mindset work are powerful—but they are not therapy, medical care, or legal guidance. When in doubt, consult the pros.

You're the Driver, Not the Passenger

You're in charge of your healing. I provide tools, insight, and deep support—but what you do with it is up to you.

No Promises, No Fixes

This work isn't about overnight miracles. Growth takes time, honesty, and commitment. We'll show up with everything we've got—you do the same.

Affiliate Disclosure

Some links may earn me a small commission if you purchase through them—never at extra cost to you. I only promote what I've personally vetted or believe in.
